Release Overview

Features and Functionality

- WooCommerce-specific accommodations were added to support a recent CSM Core change that introduced a Consolidated option to the Sales Tax Behavior field in the CSM Sales Channel table. When this option is enabled and CSM generates a sales order from retrieved eCommerce data, a single sales line representing all sources of sales tax will be entered.
- A Get Specific Channel Order action has been added to WooCommerce sales channels. This action allows a user to specify a single WooCommerce order and retrieve it into Business Central. This is useful in testing and troubleshooting scenarios.

- It is now possible to define a product status for a CSM listing. When the CSM listing is sent to an external WooCommerce channel, this setting will be used to determine the status of the product in WooCommerce. In this way, you can control the manner in which a product is made available for sale on your WooCommerce channel when it is sent from Business Central.
- The External Requires Update field on a configurable item's child CSM listings will now be cleared upon the successful sending of the parent listing to WooCommerce.

Corrections

- Certain order payment methods resulted in a blank order document number on the related payment CSM order document line in Business Central, causing issues in automatic payment posting and application scenarios. This has been corrected.

Miscellaneous

- CSM for WooCommerce has been compiled against Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central 2024 Wave 1 (version 24) for compatibility issues. No issues were detected and no immediate changes to the extension were necessary. A number of clean-up activities were performed to accommodate changes or upcoming deprecations that were introduced with this release.
- The WooCommerce quick setup wizard has been updated to automatically set a newly-created sales channel's Enable New Attribute Design and Use Shared Attributes fields to True, as these settings are required when working with WooCommerce.
- A new automation routine to create CSM listings from the item card has been added to CSM for WooCommerce's default data load.
